

TopMatch

You're smart enough to outsource plenty of tasks to the experts, and now you can leave your love life to TopMatch

In today's world our lifestyles are so hectic, many of us are either too busy to have the time to meet like-minded singles socially or too isolated to have the opportunity.

TopMatch, the personal MatchMaking specialists, is a growing international company which now operates in five countries and has the additional benefit of local offices all run by experienced and professional MatchMakers, giving a very personal and localised service – especially here in the North West.

Run by professionals for professionals, TopMatch combines classic personal introductions with internet dating technology catering for busy people who simply don't have the opportunity to meet like-minded singles and are too sensible to play the online dating game.

Discretion and privacy are high up on the list of priorities for TopMatch members and every member is pre-screened and checked to ensure they are genuine – no fake photos here!

Annette Babchuk, the Area Director for Manchester explains: "TopMatch is exclusively for discerning, successful and enlightened professionals who have everything else in life except the missing piece of the jigsaw – a great partner with whom they can share it".

Each client is provided with a Personal Dating Consultant who hand-selects every introduction based on an exhaustive range of compatibility factors.

A practical solution for true professionals

Of course, business professionals love a great deal and TopMatch promises the best value singles solution in the area, starting with a free initial consultation. With refreshingly affordable fees and an unlimited choice of dates with genuine local singles, TopMatch membership may really be the opportunity of a lifetime.

Company director, Alistair S. relates.

He found work was too consuming to make dating possible. He said: "I worked 14-hour days, and then when I returned home, I was just too shattered to make the effort to even think of finding a date".

You Know What You Want – Here's How to Find It

Like you, Alistair knew what he wanted. He just didn't have the time or energy to find it. But then, like his approach to business, he outsourced it! Companies around the world have outsourced projects with incredible success. And now you can do it with your dating life.

When Alistair found TopMatch, he knew he had found the answer. "When I heard about TopMatch it just made so much sense! Let someone else make all the arrangements for me and all I have to do is turn up! I'm now engaged to my perfect partner; I wish I'd done this much sooner!"

TopMatch Director, Annette, adds: "We all work extremely hard on behalf of our members and genuinely care about what we do. There is nothing more exciting or gives as much satisfaction as helping people find their dream partner – and when it actually happens for someone, well – words can't express how we feel". ■
